The position reports to the Dean of the School of Music, with a starting date no later than 30 June 2026. This application is open to any nationality.

RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Teach, organize, manage, and coordinate courses related to technology and creation modules in collaboration with the Bachelor of Music program, in compliance with curriculum standards and regulations both internally and externally.
2. Develop, plan, and oversee educational assessments within the assigned modules.
3. Manage and coordinate cross-disciplinary projects integrating music, technology, and creative production.
4. Support the development of short courses, workshops, or creative laboratories that enhance student skills in creation and innovation.
5. Teach and advise students in areas such as composition, audio and/or visual design, and related creative practices.
6. Conduct and present or publish research, compositions, or technology-related creative works at least once a year.
7. Participate in School or Institute-wide development projects as assigned.
8. Teach or coordinate other courses as assigned by the School of Music.

GENERAL QUALIFICATIONS

The candidate should:

1. Provide evidence of at least three years of teaching experience at the higher education level.
2. Possess a strong passion for teaching and student development.
3. Be capable of guiding student projects and delivering effective instruction in individual, group, and classroom settings.
4. Be willing and able to work collaboratively across different fields of study.

5. Demonstrate a growth mindset and a commitment to achieving goals to fulfill job responsibilities effectively.
6. Exhibit a strong work ethic, clear communication skills, and empathy for effective collaboration with colleagues.
7. Maintain high ethical standards in teaching, research, and other related work.
8. Have experience managing and executing music-related projects and activities.
9. Demonstrate the ability to generate and implement ideas and projects aligned with PGVIM's vision and mission.

SPECIFIC QUALIFICATIONS

1. The candidate must hold at least a Master's degree in Music, Music Technology, Composition, Sound Design, or related fields.
2. The candidate's creative work portfolio should include compositions, technology-related works or creations (such as sound design, visual media integration, or performance technology), and may include music performance if applicable.
3. Evidence of engagement in interdisciplinary or innovative artistic practice is desirable.

APPLICATION PROCESS
